Each year this service is made as much like a Vesper service in Northfield as possible including the robes of the choir and use of music from here.

Health Council Plan For Important Work

An enthusiastic session of the local Health Council was held at the Center school Monday afternoon, April 3 with Mrs. George W. Carr, the newly elected president in charge. Decision was made to secure the vision test equipment for use in the schools and to again inaugurate a clinic for dental work. A diptheria clinic was held at the town hall last Saturday and a well child and preschool clinic will be held June 12 and 13. The Council will make a list of the names and ages of all children, six months to school age, who are eligible for clinic work.

The Easter Season Fittingly Observed In The Community

The Easter season was fervently observed in this community, particularly on Easter Sunday, when all churches held special services and large audiences attended. The Free Methodist church held their services in Grange Hall with the pastor, Mrs. Helen Bassett in charge; the Unitarian church was well filled with a special sermon by the pastor, Mr. Heeb, and special music by the choir; the Congregational church held several services and Mr. Dahl spoke at the morning worship. The young people held a "sunrise" meeting and a special Easter service was held at the Farms schoolhouse; at the South Vernon church special Easter services were held, conducted by Rev. E. W. Blackstone. At St. Patrick's church, the morning mass was well attended. The weather for the day was not ideal and there were no special notes of fashions in the parade. In fact there was no parade, but many families were entertaining members of their household who were on vacation. Traffic on the highway was unusually quiet.

Fifty Years Married Friends Congratulate

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Dale of Bridge street were married fifty years ago on April 11th and the event was quietly observed by them, although many neighbors and friends called or wrote to extend their congratulations. After their wedding in Watertown Mass., they came to Northfield to make their home and to share with its citizens the development of the community. The Press extends congratulations also and wishes for the coming years continued success, good health and happiness.

Fortnightly Luncheon

The annual luncheon meeting of the Fortnightly will be held at the Northfield Hotel on Saturday, April 15 at 1 o'clock. The guest speaker will be Mrs. Edith French, president of the State Federation of Women's Clubs. The hostesses will be the members of the Executive Board. Reservations already made indicate that there will be a large attendance.

Fifty Years Married Friends Greet Them Community Reception

Mr. and Mrs. George N. Kidder of Parker avenue were married fifty years ago, April 12th at Belknap Falls, Vt., by the Rev. C. B. Dodge. They came to Northfield for residence and business and have entered into the social, civic and religious activities of the community. They had hoped for a quiet observance of the anniversary, but it was not to be, for friends had seized upon the opportunity to give public recognition of their years of service in various capacities and arranged a community reception in the vestry of the Unitarian church on Wednesday evening. Many friends came to extend their greetings and to wish them continued years of health, happiness and usefulness. Mr. Kidder has served the community well as undertaker and his kindly services has reached into many homes.

He also conducted a furniture and house furnishing business and in this has been very successful. For years he has served the town as a cemetery commissioner and has kept the local burial places in most excellent condition. They have a host of friends and with his wife have been most courteous and generous. They both have been active in the work of the Unitarian church and its societies and it was most befitting that the community be privileged to greet them at this public function.

During the evening, a program of music was provided under the direction of Mrs. L. P. Goodspeed, music director of the church, and a special poem dedicated to the event was read. Mr. and Mrs. Kidder were presented with a remembrance and during the informal reception, refreshments were served.

Father Son Night Local Brotherhood

The annual father and son night of the Northfield Brotherhood will be held Tuesday evening, April 18 in the vestry of the Congregational church. President Robert N. A large attendance, as in former years, will be expected.

Symphony Final Sunday Posselt Guest Artist Leslie To Conduct

Sunday afternoon, April 16, will be the final of the series of concerts given by the Pioneer Valley Symphony, under the direction of Harold A. Leslie as its conductor.

MISS POSSELT

The concert will be given in the auditorium of the Greenfield High school at three-thirty o'clock and patrons are requested to be in their seats at that hour. These Symphony concerts have had a fine patronage from Northfield and several of our citizens are members of the association. In the pre-war days several musicians from this vicinity were members of the orchestra. The guest artist on Sunday will be Miss Ruth Posselt, who returns here for another appearance following her enthusiastic reception of a year ago. She is a violinist of recognized ability, a native of this state who studied in Paris under Jacques Thibaud, and has appeared throughout this country at various music centers and appeared before audiences in many of the European countries. In her program on Sunday she will offer the Bruch violin concerto. There will be a high appeal to the music lovers of this community and it is hoped that many from Northfield will be privileged to hear her. President R. Stanley Reid of the Symphony Association has done a fine piece of work with his associates in maintaining these series of concerts during the past few years, when beset by so many problems and difficulties. Mrs. A. Gordon Moody represents Northfield on the Directorate of the Association.

HAROLD A. LESLIE

The Clock In Belfry Keeps Good Time

It's almost a certainty these days that the town clock in the belfry of the Unitarian church can be depended upon for indicating the correct time. The old clock has been ticking in and out the hours for many years but at times its care was neglected and it would even refuse to go. Now all is different and you can regulate your watch with it. Evidently something has happened and it is the guess of those in the "know" that the former defects have been remedied and that there is a new (A.M.) Spring in it to keep up its courage. Faithful to its task in the past, the clock still has a future facing it.

T'was A Good Show Given By Teachers Club

The three act play, "Charity Begins" was given at the Town Hall, Thursday evening, April 13 by the Teachers Club and following a large sale of tickets an audience had gathered which fully appreciated the performance. The proceeds of the play after deducting necessary expenses, will be devoted to the sound moving picture equipment fund. Those taking part acted their characters in a creditable manner and with credit to the effort of Mrs. Robert N. Taylor, who directed in rehearsals and performance. Those taking part included Gladys Midura, Adeline O'Neill, Julia Austin, Evelyn Lawrence, Ruth Bolton, Gladys Currier, Esther Leonard, Robert Taylor, George Leonard and Percy Goodspeed.

Protect Local Government, Says Ohio's Bricker

Columbus, O. (Spl.)—As Gov. John W. Bricker swings into his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination it is increasingly evident that the big issue will be: "Shall government direct the lives of our people or shall the people direct the government?"

At Dallas, Texas, he said: "There is no compromise between autocracy and a republic. Either the people will control their government or government will control them."

In a recent New York address, he attacked growing bureaucracy which substitutes "rule by men" for rule by law. "Not accountable to the Congress," this bureaucracy, he said, "exercises its power through decrees, orders and directives issued in the name of the Executive branch of the government. They make government policy. They are legislature, administrator, judge, jury and sheriff all rolled up in one."

Repeatedly, he has declared: "The gravest duty we have is to keep this government the kind our soldiers are fighting to preserve."

During his three successive terms as Governor of Ohio, Mr. Bricker has consistently urged the Legislature to "keep local government close to the heart and the hand of the people."

Governor Bricker, bitterly opposed to the world trend toward centralization of government authority, points out: "If America is to remain a dominant force for good in the world, if our people are to continue to enjoy self-government, policy-making power must be taken from the hands of bureaucrats and returned to the elected representatives of the people. We are involved in such a mixture of social reforms and regimentation for political power in the conduct of war, that the party in power cannot unscramble it."

Circus Day Party

Perhaps the circus or a carnival is visiting your town about this time of year. Perhaps the children are merely wishing such an event was in store. Anyway, the circus is a big thing in a child's life and anything that reminds him of a circus is enhanced in value.

Why not capitalize on this by having a circus day party for the children? Animal crackers, candy animals, animal toys as gifts, and animal games or puzzles may all be featured.

As a dessert, try the following recipe. It's light, healthful, delicious and a real way to furnish milk to children who refuse to drink this healthful beverage.

Vanilla Rennet-Custard
1 package vanilla rennet powder
1 pint milk, not canned
Honey Whip
Animal crackers

Set out 4 or 5 individual dessert glasses. Warm milk slowly, stirring constantly. Test a drop on inside of wrist frequently. When comfortably warm, (110° F.), not hot, remove at once from heat. Stir contents of package rennet powder into milk briskly until dissolved—not over one minute. Pour at once, while still liquid, into individual dessert glasses. Do not move until firm—about 10 minutes. Chill in refrigerator.

For a topping, use Honey Whip around edges of each glass. Place animal crackers in the whip, standing up to give circus parade effect.

Honey Whip—Combine 1 stiffly beaten egg white and 1 tablespoon strained honey and whip with egg beater until stiff.

George Bernard Shaw said it: "Caricatures are never like me. One day when I went into a friends flat I saw a caricature of me that seemed to be good—cruel of course, still what a caricature should be. Then it moved and I saw it was a mirror."

THE SOWERS

Firming Soil Over Seeds Calls for Extra Care

Press Down, but Do Not Pound

An important operation in seed sowing is to firm the soil over the seeds. This is necessary because the seeds must take nourishment from the soil and can do so only when in contact.

Air pockets which separate soil from seed may interfere with germination; firming drives the air out. But under some circumstances, firming can do harm, by compacting a heavy soil so much that a tough crust forms over the seed which the young plant cannot penetrate.

This danger is greatest in warm weather, with soil in which there is considerable clay. The sun will bake the clay, and form an impenetrable crust. There is always some danger of this with clay soil, even in the spring. Do not compact clay soil which is damp, and never pound any soil over the seed. Press down with the hoe blade, or use the side of a rake, and afterwards draw the rake lightly over the row to break up the crust and prevent baking.

Experienced gardeners learn through trial and error to watch this point, and take precautions to avoid conditions which may prevent seeds from growing. A heavy rain falling soon after seed is sown may pack the soil too hard, especially if it is followed by sunshine. Until the seed has sprouted the soil surface over it should be moist and loose.

When the ground dries out excessively in the spring it will pay to sprinkle the rows in which seed have been sown to prevent them lying dormant for lack of moisture. This is the only time when the garden should be sprinkled.

SPEED FAT COLLECTIONS

THE EXPRESSMAN TAKES A HAND

AMERICAN housewives are taking an active part in the used household fat salvage program of the War Production Board, because they know that every pound they save produces products and by-products vitally needed in the making of munitions and medicines, for our boys on the fighting fronts.

In 1943, they turned in for salvage approximately 120,000,000 pounds. Now, the OPA has authorized two meat ration points and four cents for every pound brought to food stores and meat shops and the 1944 goal is 230,000,000 pounds.

The Railway Expressman is lending a hand in hurrying the movement of fat collections from the volunteer meat dealer collectors to selected rendering plants, thus speeding up production of materials for war needs.

How about your used kitchen fats—are you saving them and turning them in promptly? Whenever you do, you may be saving the lives of the American boys fighting our enemies on many battlefronts!
